Strawberries offer a variety of health benefits due to their rich nutrient profile. They are packed with antioxidants, including vitamin C and anthocyanins, which can help boost the immune system, protect against cell damage, and potentially reduce the risk of certain cancers and heart disease. Additionally, strawberries are a good source of fiber, which can aid digestion, promote satiety, and help regulate blood sugar levels.

Versatile Usage: With its smooth texture and natural flavour, this seamoss gel can be easily incorporated into various recipes or enjoyed as a refreshing drink.
