

Cultivated for centuries at high altitudes in the Andes, maca is the highest growing crop. Known as the 'Peruvian ginseng' it has been used for centuries for its energy yielding properties. There are even stories of Incan soldiers eating maca root before battle. Our organic Maca Powder is a source of riboflavin (B2) which supports energy and a source of iron which supports immunity and contributes to normal cognitive function. This small root vegetable is also known to support male and female wellbeing.
