Chaga mushrooms are known as the "king of medicinal mushrooms" and have been used for centuries in traditional Russian and Chinese medicine. Our Organic Chaga Extract Powder is made from the extraction of 100% organic chaga sclerotium, from birch trees, using a dual extraction process. Temperature-controlled technology is used to extract the potent bio-active components found inside the mushroom cells; the advanced production method supports the highest levels of active nutrients to be captured. Our pure and concentrated Organic Chaga Extract Powder is expertly standardised to 50% polysaccharides content and has a significant amount of triterpenoids and polyphenols.

Best before end: See base.
