

EVERYDAY TEA

Hambleden Herbs is the foremost supplier of organically grown herbs in the U.K and also trades with organic producers from all over the world to offer a complete range of herbs and spices of the finest quality.

Herbs that are skilfully processed lack only one constituent of the fresh plant - water. The care with which our farmers grow, dry and cut their crops ensures that this infusion will meet the quantity requirements - fragrance, flavour and vitality - of the most discerning palate.

In line with our environmental policy, we support organic farming because it provides the sustainable approach to land management working with, rather than dominating natural systems. Organic farming precludes the use of toxin sprays and fertilisers; builds soil fertility; is energy efficient; promotes the diversity of plants and animals; minimises pollution and produces healthy, tasty food.
