Divine does not use palm oil because of its negative impact on the environment and animals, especially orangutans.

Cocoa pods grow in a wide range of colours, from pale yellow to bright green, all the way to dark purple or crimson.

Cocoa is grown around the globe - typically within 10° north and south of the equator.

Divine Chocolate is made with Fairtrade cocoa and sugar, and all natural ingredients. We do not use soya or palm oil.

Certified B Corporations, or B-Corps, are companies that meet the highest standards of social and environmental measures and transparency.

By using 100% pure cocoa butter, Divine Chocolate has a luxurious melt in your mouth feel.

Cocoa grows best under the canopy of the tropical rainforest, where they get the right amount of sun and shade.

Divine Chocolate is the world's first and only Fairtrade and B-Corp certified chocolate company that is co-owned by cocoa farmers.

Ghana produces 20% of the world's cocoa.

It takes 900 cocoa beans to make one kg of chocolate.

Fairtrade is a non-profit that works with farmers and workers to secure better incomes, invest in their communities, and protect our planet.

Divine Chocolate donates a portion of sales for cocoa farmers to invest in literacy, labour rights, and sustainable farming programmes.

Cocoa trees can live to be 200 years old.

Cocoa beans are the seeds of the Theobroma cacao tree. The beans are harvested, fermented, dried, and roasted to give a rich chocolatey flavour.

Divine Chocolate was launched in 1998 by cocoa farmers and multiple non-profits, including the Body Shop.

Over 90% of Fairtrade farmers work in small-scale farmer organisations.

16% of all Fairtrade cocoa growers are women.

There are more than 30,000 Fairtrade products worldwide.

Divine sources its cocoa from a small town in the southeast of Ghana.

Divine is the highest rated food and drink B-Corp in the UK.

Globally, there are more honeybees than other types of bees and pollinating insects, so it is the world's most important pollinator of food crops.

Kuapa Kokoo, the world's largest Fairtrade cocoa cooperative and pioneers in ethical cocoa production, co-owns Divine Chocolate.

There are over 2 million farmers and workers worldwide who work to produce Fairtrade products.

Kuapa Kokoo, which grows Divine's cocoa beans, has a motto: "Pa Pa Paa", which means the "Best of the Best"
